This remarkable itinerary enables you to encounter the incomparable as you experience the natural wonders of the Arctic.

Your Itinerary

Day 1: Montreal - Kuujuaq - Rapid Lake Flight ➤ Upon arrival at Rapid Lake, the manager-owner will welcome you with a cocktail and overview of your upcoming itinerary. Afternoon trek to take in the subarctic tundra. Dinner and overnight stay at the Lodge.

Day 2: Excursion to the continent Land's End ➤ Celebrated for its "other worldly" landscape, the northeast tip of North America offers unsurpassed scenic views of the Arctic tundra. En route, you will fly over polar bears and magnificent icebergs. Stops along the way enable you to soak up such out-of-the-way spots as glaciers dating from the last ice age, breathtaking waterfalls and archaeological sites. Your day includes lunch at seaside. Overnight stay at the Lodge.

Day 3: Exploration of the Fjords ➤ Encounter the most imposing fjords in North America. Flying between the gigantic rock walls of the Nachvak Fjord, you will stop over to survey a waterfall, rocky chimney and thousand-year-old tomb. Fly over famous Mount D'Iberville and Minaret Glacier with a stop at a stunning glacial valley to witness geography that is second to none. Overnight stay at the Lodge and Labrador tea tasting.

Day 4: Migrate with the Caribou ➤ Your first sight of the long processions of caribou stretching out over countless kilometres will leave you speechless. After a long winter, thousands return in July to give birth on the Georges River plateau. This region is a celebrated point of convergence for both amateur and professional photographers on a quest for safari shots. Overnight stay at the Lodge.

Day 5: Visit the Ghost Town of Hebron ➤ Discover such enigmatic artefacts as a Gothic style church shrouded in mystery, 100-year-old houses and dozens of open-pit tombs, all with an unobstructed view of the Labrador Sea. Overnight stay at the Lodge.

Keep an eye out for the largest terrestrial carnivore on the planet, the polar bear. These formidable white giants can be seen along the eastern coast of Ungava as well as in Labrador.

In the Torngat Mountains, there are more than a dozen natural waterfalls exceeding 300 meters in height. Some literally shoot out over high rock wall faces and others fall straight down, gently meeting their ends like angels' hair, while still others cascade across glorious arches of rock.

Imposing fjords found in the Torngat Mountains offer visitors some of the most splendid scenery in the world. The mountainous coast of Labrador is notched with multiple glacial valleys whose awe-inspiring embankments sometimes surpass 1,200 meters in height.
